The said property consists of a constructed line of railroad in active operation from the city of Alexandria, Va., westward through the counties of Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudoun to Round Hill station, in Loudoun county, a distance of 51 1/2 miles, including a line connecting with the Washington and Alexandria Railroad. The road is also graded beyond Round Hill for a distance of three miles.

According to the route surveyed the distance from Washington city to Point Pleasant, on the Ohio river, is three hundred and twenty-five miles, and passes through a country heavily timbered and of great mineral resources.

Terms: The entire property, real, personal and mixed, franchises, &c., is sold together, and for the same the purchaser must pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of the purchase money in cash, and the residue in four equal annual payments, with interest from the date of sale, which said payments are to be evidenced by bonds, which are to be secured by a deed of trust upon the property sold, to be executed upon the confirmation of the sale and conveyance to the purchaser.

This sale is subject to the lien of the deed of trust executed August 18, 1878, to include the county of Clarke, State of Virginia, against liability for the annual interest on the bonds of the said company for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) "up to and until the time when said road shall be commenced, and under condition of said deed of trust, and against liability for the payment of the principal of said bonds in case they shall become due and payable before the road shall be commenced and under construction in said county, the said bonds falling due in the year 1882.

The purchaser will be entitled to the net profits of the road from the day of the sale.

Travel in the Olden Time.

How rapidly we have travelled in reaching the present stage of rapid travel is illustrated in the fact that the author of the subjoined spirited advertisement is still living, in green and vigorous old age, in the person of ex-Governor William Smith, of Fauquier.

The advertisement appeared in the Lynchburg Virginian in 1830, from whose columns it was recently transferred to the Southern Planter, of this city, by Col. S. W. Ficklin, of Albemarle, himself a prominent stage man in the more recent past.

"The proprietor of the line of stages recently running from Lynchburg to Alexandria twice a week, informs the citizens of Lynchburg and the vicinity that this line now runs three times a week, and is extended to the city of Washington.

"There has recently been put upon the line between Washington and Baltimore a new line of stages, unequalled in the country in splendor and magnificence, travelling also with great rapidity.

With a view to public accommodation, and with a view to save passengers the inconvenience of hunting for and procuring seats for Baltimore when arrived in Washington the proprietor has formed a connection with this new line, thus constituting a connected line from Lynchburg to Baltimore, and so from Baltimore to Lynchburg.

"The stages leave Lynchburg on Sunday, Wednesday, and Friday, mornings. The time taken on the road to the North is one day to Charlottesville; from Lynchburg to Washington, two days and until 11 a. m. on third—same day reach Baltimore by half after 4 o'clock p. m.; and on next day in New York; so that in four days the passengers may take tea in New York. The stage from Baltimore for Lynchburg leaves Baltimore about 5 a. m. on Monday, Thursday, and Saturday; reaches Barnard's Mansion Hotel in Lynchburg city by 10 a. m.; drops into my line at 12 o'clock same day, and in one day after reaches Charlottesville, and on the second Lynchburg, thus running from Baltimore to Charlottesville in two, and to Lynchburg in three days.

"Fare: From Lynchburg to Baltimore, $17.
